FOR THE DISTRICT OF NEW MEXICO

LAWRENCE RODRIGUEZ, STEVEN J.
DURAN, ROSEMARY NEAL, JASON BROWN, and GREG MIERA,

on behalf of themselves and other present and former City employees

Plaintiffs,

vs.

Cause No. 1:07-cv-00901

CITY OF ALBUQUERQUE,

Defendant.

COMPLAINT FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT

COME NOW Plaintiffs, by and through their attorneys, The Bregman Law Firm, P.C. (by Sam Bregman and Eric Loman); and Paul Livingston, and present the following Complaint for Violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act (hereinafter "FLSA"):

1. Plaintiffs are all present or former City employees who have been denied the correct amount of overtime wages to which they are entitled under the provisions of the FLSA.
2. This collective action complaint is filed on behalf of Plaintiffs pursuant to the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. Sec. 216(b). Specifically, Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of all employees and former employees of the City of Albuquerque who have worked overtime but who either have not been paid or have not been paid the full amount of overtime wages they are entitled to under the provisions of the FLSA.

3. The City's Merit System Ordinance, Section 3-1-11, provides that:

The working time of employees in a department shall be specified from time to time by the department head, with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or his designated representative. . . Overtime may be paid by the city for work performed outside of established work hours in accordance with the Fair Labor Standards Act.

4. Rule 302.2 of the City's Personnel Rules and Regulations provides that:

As a condition of employment, employees may be required to work overtime. . . . (W)hen overtime is required for non-exempt employees, compensation must be in accordance with the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and any applicable collective bargaining agreement.

5. The normal work week of most City employees is set out in Collective Bargaining Agreements. The normal work week is generally 40 hours per week, consisting of five eight-hour days or four ten-hour days.

6. Under the provisions of the FLSA, Plaintiffs are owed overtime wages amounting to "not less than one and one-half times the regular rate" at which they are employed, 29 U.S.C. Sec 207(a)(1), for hours worked in excess of their normal work weeks.

7. Under the FLSA the regular rate "shall be deemed to include all remuneration for employment paid to, or on behalf of, the employee." 29 U.S.C. Sec. 207(e). The "regular rate" includes not only the "base" rate of pay, but also includes other compensation for hours worked, including but not limited to shift differential pay, hazardous duty pay, longevity and super longevity pay, holiday pay, bilingual pay, educational pay, and other non-discretionary remuneration or bonuses.

8. The City of Albuquerque has failed to include all the properly applicable "other compensation" in calculating the "regular rate" of many of its employees, with the result that these employees receive less overtime pay than required by the FLSA.

9. Some City employees have been improperly classified as “exempt” from the provisions of the FLSA.

10. As a result of the misclassification of employees as “exempt” when they are actually “non-exempt” employees as defined by the FLSA, these employees receive no overtime pay or less overtime pay than they are entitled to receive under the provisions of the FLSA.

11. For many years the City has calculated FLSA payments separately under the terms of the Collective Bargaining Agreements, without including any additional remuneration or pay bonuses in the “regular rate,” or under the FLSA, without including benefits and provisions in the Collective Bargaining Agreements and/or the City's rules and ordinances.

12. The FLSA requires calculation of overtime pay that combines contract wages and benefits with the provisions of the FLSA that require “other compensation” to be added to the employees’ “regular rate.”

13. In many cases, the City is incorrectly taking “credits” or “offsets” against overtime pay for holiday, sick time, or other pay which is provided in a union agreement or which is otherwise properly not creditable or chargeable against overtime pay under the provisions of the FLSA.

14. In many cases the City is not keeping adequate or appropriate records of the overtime worked by its employees.

15. An opt-in collective action under 29 U.S.C. Section 216(b) is appropriate in this case as all City employees who receive overtime pay are similarly situated, are subjected to the same policies and practices, and have suffered the same or similar types of damages.

16. The City of Albuquerque’s conduct prior to and subsequent to the filing of this case, and the City’s failure to correct its erroneous payment of overtime wages has been and continues to be willful and in bad faith, thus entitling Plaintiffs to their unpaid overtime wages, liquidated damages in an amount equal to the unpaid wages, a three-year statute of limitations, and attorneys' fees and costs.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for the following relief:

- A. Overtime wages owed calculated as the difference between the overtime wages that were received under the improperly calculated rates of pay and the overtime wages that should have been paid under the proper and correct calculations, offsets, credits, and exemptions set out in the provisions of the FLSA;
- B. Liquidated damages in an amount equal to the unpaid overtime wages owed;
- C. Pre-judgment and post-judgment interest;
- D. Attorney's fees and costs associated with this lawsuit; and
- E. Such other and further relief as the Court deems necessary, just, and proper.

Respectfully submitted,
